Goldsmiths’ history

In 1792 the Counter Hill Academy opened its doors in New Cross, in a house built by Deptford distiller, William Goodhew. The Royal Naval School then bought the site and commissioned the renowned Victorian architect Robert Shaw to design and build what has today become our Richard Hoggart Building. In the 1890s the Goldsmiths Company added a gymnasium, a concert hall and a swimming pool. Shortly after the College was founded, the Goldsmiths Company provided funding for a new School of Art. This imposing building, opened in 1907, was designed by Sir Richard Blomfield - whose other main claim to fame was to design the now ubiquitous standard electricity pylon.

A busy period of development accompanied our expansion in the 1960s. We added the Whitehead, Lockwood and Education Buildings. We erected the Warmington Tower, built St James’s Hall, and added a new extension to the Richard Hoggart Building.

In 1998 we opened the Rutherford Building, and it received a RIBA award as one of the 10 best new buildings in the capital. 2005 saw us open the eye-catching Ben Pimlott Building, a seven-story, purpose-built teaching space containing new art studios and lecture theatres and providing accommodation for our psychology and digital media labs.

The Professor Stuart Hall Building followed in 2010, housing our Media, Communications and Cultural Studies Department and our Institute for Creative and Cultural Entrepreneurship. The Professor Stuart Hall Building also gave us additional teaching rooms, meeting spaces, a new café and a new 250-seat lecture theatre. In 2018 we opened the Goldsmiths Centre for Contemporary Art. Designed by Turner Prize-winning architects Assemble and housed in the Grade II-listed former Laurie Grove Baths, this free public gallery hosts a varied programme of shows, projects and residencies by national and international artists and curators, bringing world-class art to southeast London.
A history of recognising and nurturing talent

At Goldsmiths we aim to recognise and nurture talent. Nine of our alumni and staff have been Turner Prize winners and a further 24 have been shortlisted. Among these is Steve McQueen, the first Black director to win Best Picture Oscar for his 2014 film 12 Years A Slave.

2019 saw Bernardine Evaristo take home the Booker Prize for her novel Girl, Woman, Other, becoming the first Black woman to receive the prestigious literary award. Our former students are also among winners of the Mercury Music Prize, the Ivor Novello Award, BAFTA and many more. In 2013 we established the Goldsmiths Prize to reward innovation in fiction. The inaugural prize went to Eimear McBride for her debut novel A Girl is a Half-Formed Thing. In 2019, Lucy Ellmann was awarded the prize for Ducks, Newburyport.

Into the modern era, Goldsmiths remains committed to active involvement in community initiatives in New Cross and Southeast London. In 2019 we unveiled a community mural commemorating the 1977 Battle of Lewisham, following a collaborative project between Goldsmiths and local community groups.

In the same year, we worked with our partners Lewisham Council on a winning bid to make Lewisham a London Borough of Culture for 2021, rescheduled to 2022 as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic. In 2021 Goldsmiths was the first university in London to launch a Civic University Agreement. Developed in partnership with 11 other local anchor institutions in the Borough of Lewisham, our Civic University Agreement commits us to working collectively to address some of the most pressing issues facing our local communities.
The directorate

You would be joining the directorate of IT, Digital and Library Services at an exciting time as we embark on the delivery of our new 2023-2028 digital vision:

“We want everyone in the Goldsmiths community to use digital products confidently and creatively in support of their learning, teaching, research, and administrative activities. Our technology solutions will be flexible, scalable, and secure so the College can adapt to ever changing user needs and flourish in a digital world.”

Our initial priorities are to modernise our infrastructure, improve our data and develop our digital skills. We will be delivering a new CRM system on Dynamics 365, improving all other core systems and processes, and upgrading all our teaching and learning spaces.
The department

Goldsmiths Library is housed in the Rutherford Building which it shares with IT Services. This offers a mix of social, group and silent study spaces together with over 200 open access computers. The building is open 24/7.

It is used by over 15,000 readers: staff and students of Goldsmiths and external users. Its collections cover the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and relate to the teaching and research of the College. In addition to some 300,000 books and 5,800 print and electronic journals it contains extensive audio-visual and school practice collections.

These are managed alongside a growing number of special collections and archives which reflect Goldsmith’s research activities; for example, the Goldsmiths Textile Collection & Constance Howard Gallery, the Daphne Oram Collection and the Women’s Art Library. The Library has responsibility for the Goldsmiths Art Collection and is working with stakeholders to identify and manage the artworks.

The Library works closely with the Research Office and with Goldsmiths Press, notably in the areas of open access and alternative models of scholarly publishing. Goldsmiths Online Research Collections (which include the institutional repository, research data, digitised archives, and open access journal titles hosted on Open Journal Service) are managed by the Library.

There are two areas within Library Services: Systems and Resources; Reader Services and Academic Support.
